

Presented Challenges

A full-cycle PM and EHR company with expertise in billing intricacies needed to expand its platform to include clinical content with coding and billing edits. Its ideal partner, as a coding expert, would develop, host, and maintain clinical content —allowing the PM/EHR vendor to focus on its own strengths while providing a more robust product. As an end-to-end practice solution, they were also looking for an intelligent solution to make pricing and performance easier for its providers.

How We Helped

With our hosted, SaaS-based content platform, Alpha II was able to offer a fully robust solution. As a result, the PM/EHR company now has a clinical coding and editing solution, creating cost savings and efficiencies for its providers. Alpha II's specialty is its focus on clinical content, which is updated in near real-time, while other solutions maintain their own content quarterly.
